

PERFECT PLANS FOR PETERSBURG'S DAY

All Details Arranged and Proclamation Issued Urging People to Attend.

MISS HITE WEDS MR. LYON

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., November 19.—Many preparations are being made here for a big celebration of Thursday, November 21st, Petersburg Day at the Jamestown Exposition, and the following proclamation, issued by the committee, which made the necessary arrangements for the occasion with Special Commissioner Guy O. Mason, of the exposition, will be made public to-morrow:

Proclamation.
In view of the proposed observance of Thursday, the 21st of November as Petersburg Day at the Jamestown Exposition, and in order to encourage attendance upon this event, the president of the City School Board, the superintendent of the City High School having granted permission for the absence from school on that day of any pupil desiring to attend these exercises, we, the undersigned, beg to urge that all the school children shall avail themselves of this privilege; and, moreover, that the merchants of the city give their employees the opportunity to do likewise.

WILLIAM M. JONES, Mayor;
WALTER N. JONES, President Board of Aldermen;
N. T. BATESON, President Common Council;
AUGUSTUS WRIGHT, President Chamber of Commerce.
Mrs. H. G. Leitch, who has been appointed sponsor to represent Petersburg at all social functions during Old Dominion week at the exposition, has appointed Miss Mary Paul Roper and Miss Elizabeth Romaine Pegram her maids of honor. As previously reported, Judge William H. Hodges, Mayor, will deliver the principal address on Petersburg Day.

Lyon-Hite.
Miss Georgia Romaine Hite, daughter of Mrs. William A. Hite, and Mr. David Lyon, Jr., were married at half-past 8 o'clock this morning at the residence of the bride's mother, on Harding Street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Merritt, of Williamsburg, Va., a cousin of the bride. There being no bridal attendants except Messrs. Grover C. Rogers and Robert M. Harty, who were acting as witnesses, Mrs. Lyon left immediately after the ceremony for a bridal tour North. Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Rosa May Seward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Seward, to Mr. James Rembert Anthony, Jr., which will take place at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, December 3d, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seward, on Market Street. Mrs. Mary Bond has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Paul Bond, to Mr. Franklin C. Davis, of San Antonio, Texas, at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, December 4th, at Tabby Street Presbyterian Church, in this city.

IN THE TOIL, CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING $117.20

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., November 19.—Charged with the embezzlement of $117.20 from P. F. Collier & Son, Charles E. Brenner, their representative here, will be arraigned in the Police Court to-morrow morning. It is alleged by J. C. White, a traveling auditor for the publishing company, that Brenner had made away with this amount of the company's receipts, and he also desired to exhibit in court this morning a written confession of Brenner. This, however, was ruled out, and the case was continued to admit the securing of further witnesses.

NO CLUE TO MURDER OVER GAME OF CARDS

NORFOLK, Va., November 19.—No clue has yet been found to the murder of A. H. Berry, who was found dead in a room at the Fairfax Hotel several weeks ago, and the coroner jury to-day brought in a verdict of death at the hands of parties unknown. Berry was found dead in his room with a scattered pack of marked playing cards strewn about the floor, and

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

WEDDING RECEPTION.

Couple Who Will Marry To-Night Help

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., November 19.—Colonel and Mrs. A. B. Andrews entertained elaborately to-night in honor of their son, Mr. Graham Andrews, and his bride, who was Miss Eliza Simmons, daughter of United States Senator Simmons. They have just returned from their bridal trip. In the receiving line were also Miss Sadie Root, daughter of Mr. Charles Root, and Mr. W. M. Richards, nephew of Colonel and Mrs. Andrews, who are to be married to-morrow night in Christ Church at 9 o'clock. The reception being partly in honor of this couple as well as Mr. Graham Andrews and bride. President Finlay, of the Southern Railway Company, was also in the receiving line. The apartments of the Andrews home were elaborately and most tastefully decorated with Southern amulins, palms and ferns and rare cutflowers. The service of refreshments was elaborate, and the menu especially dainty. There were more than 600 guests.

Other Features of Week.

On Thursday the following days will be observed: Pulaski Day, Petersburg Day, Thanksgiving Day. The celebration of the latter will be the feature of Thursday, and the exercises will be held in the Auditorium. Mayor W. R. Rice, of Bristol, Tenn.; Mayor H. G. Baker, of Winchester, Va.; and Mayor C. W. Walker, of Roanoke, are expected to deliver addresses. Mrs. J. A. Dickey is sponsor for Bristol, and her maids of honor are John and Mary Dickey. The Tennessee side, and Misses Pauline Cody, Kate Haynes, Marjorie Linn Caldwell, Corinne Brown, Mamie McCall and Susie Brown.

Two notable celebrations will be jointly held on Friday, November 20th, at the Old Dominion Hotel. The others which will join in the celebration are Alexandria and Falls Church. Mayor Thomas P. Wallace will head the Alexandria delegation to the exposition Friday. He has named Miss Flora Mason as sponsor, and maids of honor will be named. Mayor Wallace will speak.

Hampton, Phoebus, the National Soldiers' Home and the public school children of the Peninsula will be representing that section and bring over a large delegation. William and Mary College will also send their cadets, and will participate in the parade will be one of the features.

The features of Saturday will be:

the children's carnival, including the Leechburg Day, Craydon Day, Clifton Force Day and Stafford Day.

Thanksgiving Day.

The Exposition Company will at once start canvasses of the business houses, factories, offices and other large establishments offering to management special rate tickets to the exposition on Thanksgiving Day. The idea is to get the business men of the city to present complimentary tickets to their employees in order to make the day one of the largest in point of attendance during the closing week of the fair.

Matters of Lease.

Owing to the absence of parties interested in the lease of the exposition as a summer amusement park, the conference scheduled for to-day did not materialize. Director-General Lewis, of the Exposition, will go to-day with gentlemen interested at the Atlantic Trust and Deposit Company, and the confident he will get a go through. Mr. Martin declares an announcement will be made Friday or Saturday.

To Be Married To-Day.

NORFOLK, Va., November 19.—A pretty wedding will take place in Holy Trinity Church, Norfolk, N. C., at noon to-morrow, when Miss Sarah Galtier becomes the bride of Gilbert B. Lewis, of Portsmouth. Mr. Lewis is cashier of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, and is, of course, well known throughout this section of the State. Miss Galtier is a native Norfolk orator, and is very popular.

Two of the bridesmaids will be

Norfolk girls—Miss Abbie Wilson and Miss Nell Freeman.

Murder Suspect Is Bailed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., November 19.—Thos. Archer, the negro suspected of the killing of Mrs. Mary Rorschach, was released to-day for the sum of $2,000, his bondsman being wealthy negro of Portsmouth. Archer will probably be tried next February. This crime is one that continues to great mystery. Mrs. Rorschach having been shot while endeavoring to intercept a supposed burglar.

RABBI WISE'S PLEA FOR RIGHTEOUS LIFE

Distinguished New York Rabbi Makes Notable Address at Civic Improvement Day Celebration.

OLD DOMINION WEEK FEATURE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION, November 19.—With a clear sky and gratifying attendance, Civic Improvement Day was celebrated at the exposition, the address of the occasion being delivered by Rabbi Stephen D. Wise, of New York, noted as the most eloquent and learned of Jewish rabbis. The subject of the oration was "Civic and National Righteousness."

Rabbi Wise spoke at length on the absolute need of righteousness in government, urging that it is the best guarantee of liberty, freedom of religious thought and material prosperity. He showed by the history of the nations of the past that righteousness, after all, is what makes a government, and stamps it as civilized and enlightened.

Dr. Wise founded his remarks on Rudyard Kipling's famous sentence, "Lord God of hosts, be with us, lest we forget, lest we forget, and declared that the Jamestown Exposition, with all its beautiful, splendid exhibits and notable assemblages, will have been in vain if it does not call a halt upon the American people and give them a renewal of that religious and moral patriotism so closely interwoven with the life of the nation which the centennial commemorates.

President's Grave Blunder.

Dr. Wise declared in the course of his remarks that President Roosevelt made a grave blunder when he directed that the inscription, "In God We Trust," should not be engraved on the pedestal of the statue of the president. He said that the spirit of God should be embodied in the State and in the lives of the people.

While the out-of-town visitors spent the day at the exposition, taking in the sights, as the guests of the exposition company, the exercises were not held until 8 o'clock in the evening in the Auditorium. The addresses were well received and interspersed with selections by Elmer's Band.

Rabbi Mendosa, pastor of the Chief Sholem Temple congregation of Norfolk, presided over the meeting. Rabbi Calhoun of Richmond, having made a brief address. Others present and participating were: Edward J. Riddick, Mayor of Richmond; Mayor Buxton, of Newport News; Mayor Reed, of Portsmouth, and other municipal officers of Norfolk and Tidewater Virginia.

Life of Old Dominion Week.

The auspicious beginning of Old Dominion week at the Jamestown Exposition has added life and ginger to the big fair for the week. The numerous exhibitors and exhibitors have smiled because of the increased attendance. The large number of special days and events scheduled for the week, the four days give promise that the week will rank as the best in every particular that the centennial has had since September.

Bristol, Va., Winchester and Front

Royal cities in the Western part of the State will celebrate to-morrow. The exercises will be held in the Auditorium. Mayor W. R. Rice, of Bristol, Tenn.; Mayor H. G. Baker, of Winchester, Va.; and Mayor C. W. Walker, of Roanoke, are expected to deliver addresses. Mrs. J. A. Dickey is sponsor for Bristol, and her maids of honor are John and Mary Dickey. Roanoke Catholics Celebrate

ST. ANDREW'S CATHOLIC CHURCH.

OBSERVE NATAL DAY WITH HAPPY HEARTS

Catholics of Roanoke Unite in Joyous Celebration of Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

FIRST MASS IN RAILWAY COACH

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROANOKE, Va., November 19.—At St. Andrew's Catholic Church to-day was celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first mass celebrated in Roanoke. The church was packed at 10 o'clock. When high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father W. W. Lynch, who twenty-five years ago celebrated the first mass in a passenger coach of the Norfolk and Western. The sermon was preached by Bishop P. J. Donahue, of Wheeling, W. Va. There was a fine musical program, and the new pipe organ, which cost $4,000, was used for the first time. Bishop Van de Vyver, of Richmond, attended the celebration, and there were a number of priests present. Rev. Father Jenkins, of Mytheville, was master of ceremonies.

In the afternoon the children of St. Andrew's school had a celebration.

Brief addresses were made, after which medals, commemorative of the event, were presented to the children. The medals are of aluminum. On one side is a passenger coach, with "First Mass in Roanoke," and on the reverse the handsome church of to-day, with "St. Andrew's Church, Roanoke, November 19, 1907."

At night the adult members of the church assembled at St. Andrew's hall, where a purse was presented to Father Lynch.

Has Grown Rapidly.

The growth of the Catholic church in Roanoke has been remarkable. Twenty-five years ago to-day, Father Lynch, then a young man, who had been a missionary in six counties of the Valley, came to the city. At his first mass in the passenger coach there were only fifteen Catholics, and only one of that number resides in Roanoke to-day.

Next Sabbath the small congregation occupied Rorer Hall, which was the first public hall in the city. As the membership increased, a brick church was erected on the site of the present church, and occupied for the first time in 1883. On the 28th of October of that year it was dedicated by Bishop Keane, of Richmond. The membership grew so rapidly that in 1900 Father Lynch decided that another church should be built. The plans were drawn, and without any building committee, Father Lynch employed the late John Cary, and work was commenced on the beautiful structure of to-day, which cost about $100,000.

The cornerstone was laid by Bishop

Van de Vyver, of Richmond, on December 2, 1900, and it was dedicated on November 20, 1905, with the sermon by Bishop Donahue.

In addition to the church building, the Catholics of Roanoke have erected a large orphanage, and a school (under the direction of the Sisters of Charity), which has 400 pupils.

SWORE FALSELY TO AGE.

Lynchburg Man Charged With Perjury

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., November 19.—P. J. Saunders, a middle-aged man, was arrested this morning by Officer Harvey, at his home on Church Street, on the charge of having committed perjury last week by swearing falsely to the date of the marriage of the young lady to Jim W. Allen, a cigarmaker. The accused was locked up, and an applicant has been made to the court by his attorney, Mr. Don P. Smith, for bail.

It is alleged by the mother of the young girl that the girl will not be fourteen years of age until in May next.

The license was issued for the marriage to take place in the month of

May, and it has not been returned to the clerk's office to-day, so that it is not known whether the couple married or not.

SCHOOL DESK MATTER COMES UP TO-DAY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, Va., November 19.—Judge Martin, in the Court of Law and Chancery, will to-morrow hear the disputed school desk question. In this matter a dispute has arisen between the local school board and the State Board of Education as to which body has the right to select the style of furniture to be used in the Norfolk schools. Each side will be represented by a small army of attorneys.

Burton-Shuey.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
VALLEY MILLS, Va., November 19.—"Riverside," the attractive rural home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shuey, near here, was the scene of an interesting marriage this morning at 5 o'clock, when their charming daughter, Miss Kalla Holland Shuey, became the bride of Mr. Cecil W. Burton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burton, of Churchville, Va.

The bride, attired in white organdy and lace, and carrying a bride's bouquet, entered the parlor with the groom to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Beulah Hoover. They were met at the altar by the Rev. Holmes Ralston, who performed the ceremony. The parlor was artistically decorated. The couple left and a shower of rice and hearty good wishes to visit Richmond, Newport News, Old Point, Norfolk, the Jamestown Exposition and Northern division. The groom is well known in Richmond and Manchester, where he has been a great many friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Burton will be at home to their friends at Craigsville, Va., after December 1st.

Alvin Fleet Dances III.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., November 19.—Friends of Captain A. F. Dabney, of Tappanhook, Va., will regret to hear of the illness of his son, Alvin Fleet, who has been in the Washington University Hospital, Washington, D. C., for some time. His mother is with him, and he has the best of attention by Dr. Taylor and Miss Matthews.
